

Solar energy is renewable and abundant.

Photovoltaic panels convert sunlight into electricity.

Efficiency depends on panel type and sunlight intensity.

Solar power reduces carbon emissions compared to fossil fuels.

India has large solar farms in Rajasthan and Gujarat.

Net metering allows households to sell excess solar electricity to the grid.

Battery storage helps balance supply during cloudy days or at night.